The message below was converted into a radio signal and transmitted into space from Earth.

Deep thoughts

When you eat a burger, you're not destroying it. You're recruiting it. Its molecules may have once been part of a star, a tree, another person, or a completely different burger named Jessica.

Now Jessica is part of you.

For one brief moment, the universe becomes self-aware, covered in ketchup, and a little worried about what happened to Jessica.
